

Kiwanis Club of North Modesto

June 14, 2018

OPENING REMARKS

Once Charlie was in the door, President Eric Angelo called the meeting to order. Kyle Barker led the song; Tim Ragsdale led the pledge and Phil Fugit offered the prayer.

GUESTS/INTERCLUB

Lt. Gov Juan Carlos joined us this morning, after attending and enjoying his first Graffiti car show last weekend. He reminded folks that club leadership training for Kiwanians is also June 23, in Merced, so people can make a day of it in Merced County.

Sabine Saso was with us again; by the end of the month she'll be a member. Also two Key Clubbers: Lt. Gov. Mia and executive assistant Kathy. Mia said that Key Club members need rides to Livingston High School on June 23 for the officer training conference. They'll leave Modesto about 7 a.m. and the conference ends about 3.

InterClub with Greater Turlock is scheduled for June 29 at 6:45 a.m. The meeting is at Latif's, so it promises to be a good breakfast. Seven signed up but there is room for more. Contact Ken Darby.

ANNOUNCEMENTS – non Graffiti

Down to two members who need to turn in their chicken $$ and one of those says the check is in the mail.

Two reminders: Dues are due.

No club meeting on July 5. And the board meeting will be held on July 11, not the Fourth of July.

Our next big event will be the concert benefiting CASA on June 30 at Del Rio. The band will be Desperado, considered the premier Eagles tribute band. Tickets are $50 per person, available from Loren Suelzle or by contacting casaofstanco.org or 548-6320.

Randy Cook said everyone had a good time at the Stuffing Party, alternating between eating, drinking and stuffing. He'll be consulting with John Sanders about Wine in the Pines so that info is to be announced. The deinstallation dinner is set for Sept. 21.

BIRTHDAYS/ANNIVERSARIES

No birthdays this week.

Wedding anniversaries: Odette has a wedding anniversary but she might be doing something special because she wasn't with us.

HAPPY AND SAD BUCKS & GRAFFITI ANNOUNCEMENTS

Larry Hughes said the final car count, including specialty vehicles and those from Cars and Coffee Modesto was 1,473. Patti has received lots of positive comments, as have most people.

Jim Graham said gross income stands at $203,863, with some more expected. We will net more than $100,000.

Eric said the only negatives he heard about were a couple of dog fights, apparently involving dogs brought in by car owners.

Ray Sanders said they're trying to get the trailer packed up at 10 a.m. this morning at his house. He welcomes help.

Brent read a letter to The Bee that offered high praise for the parade and show and commended NMK.

Larry thanked Jennifer and the Visitors Bureau for all their help, including selling the extra shirts out of their office. She also will be offering them at two upcoming small shows.

Ken Darby said the Old Fisherman's Club will have its Graffiti car show on July 14.

Roger was appreciative that Key Club members showed up to both set up and take down the table and chairs under the big tents.

Charlie offered a happy $5 in thanks to everyone who worked on the parade and through the weekend.

Lori was sad to miss the parade this year but she had a good reason: Her grandson's Little League team made it to the championships – and won.

Brent thanked everyone on the committee and the club who helped. He spoke Monday with the mayor, who was very happy with how the parade worked out.

Brent announced that next year's show will be June 7-9. The Graffiti Committee will have a wrap-up meeting at 7 a.m. Wednesday, June 20 at Perko's on Oakdale & Sylvan. Then Brent is taking a Graffiti break.

Gary G said he looks forward to Graffiti every year. His brother-in-law was in town, spotted a nice car and in talking to the owner, discovered that it used to be us.

Kudos to Randy Cook and the clean-up crew after the parade. Randy said Denise drove the truck for the first time. Three generations of Cook family members were in the clean-up crew after the parade. We had 100 garbage cans out on the route.

John Sanders said he thought this was the best event ever and he and Bob Riedel are still happy that they've passed on the leadership to Brent and Charlie.

Bob Dunbar noticed when he was driving along McHenry that many people had chairs and barbecues out. The parade has become the family event we hoped it would be.

Charlie noted that when the black building alerted its patients and clients that the parking lot would be blocked it helped get the word out about the parade.

Eric said he was proud to be the president of the club that put on such a show and happy to drive around in golf cart talking to car owners, although the pink color did draw some comments.

Allan said we should thank the spouses who worked alongside folks through the weekend. Rich Humble said two spouses recovering from health ailments were dedicated workers at the registration shirt table.

Bob R said he was sad that some NMK members who don't help at the car show are really missing out on lots of fun.

Marci had asked for help at the beer garden and was pleased to get so much help, including from spouses and friends.

Cory was happy to get to drive "the Datsun" back to Aaron's house.

Non Graffiti: Kevin Scott's granddaughter in Washington has been invited to try out for a team associated with the Univ of Washington Huskies. The family is hopeful this will lead to a scholarship.

Cory communicated with Dave Giddings. His son, whose arm was crushed in an ATV accident over the weekend, has lost 40 percent of the muscle in his right arm and his elbow will have to be rebuilt. They are still hopeful the arm can be saved. Thoughts and prayers for the Giddings family.

MARBLE & LUNCH MONEY

John Sanders had the right number but pulled the wrong color. Bob Harper won the lunch money.
